

Dear Parents/Guardians,

Parent's Signature

Again, welcome to Making Waves in Sixth Grade. Please take the time to visit the blog and subscribe to future posts in order to stay informed. Sincerely, C	I am excited to announce our class blog- Making Waves in Sixth Grade: http://bmsemerick.edublogs.org. I am a firm believer that strong parent-teacher communication is essential in order to maximize student learning. Through this blog, I hope to keep you up to date on what we're learning in the classroom. Some of the types of posts you might expect to see are as follows: up-dates on curriculum and units of study, activities students participate in (discussion circles, Readers Theater, essay reading, etc.) and Celebration of Student Work. This blog will also be used as a place of reference for you to view links to helpful websites and/or articles. During theschool year, your child will have several opportunities to contribute to the content to our classroom blog. I take the issue of student security very seriously. Any student work published will be accompanied by the child's first name only. No last names will be used if pictures or videos of activities are posted. In order for me to post anything from child I would like your permission. Please complete the form below and return.
